This image shows a page of handwritten musical notation on aged, yellowed paper. The notation is arranged in six horizontal staves. The notes are written in a dark ink, and the paper shows signs of wear, including some staining and discoloration. The notation appears to be a form of early musical notation, possibly from the 16th or 17th century, featuring various note values and stems. The word "Cenox" is written in a large, stylized script across the middle of the page, overlapping the second and third staves. The overall appearance is that of an antique manuscript.
